

When was the last time you took a serious look at your IT infrastructure?

To get where you want to go, begin by assessing where you are right now (and how you got here!). Our Site Assessment and IT Refresh Services are built upon more than two decades of technical network management, operational, regulatory, and legal experience.

Stop monkeying around. More than ever before, business success is tied to technology. Don't let your data requirements outgrow your infrastructure.

Infrastructure and Service Needs:

Through on-site analysis and interviews with key organizational stakeholders, our report will define IT operational goals and identify current technology gaps.

Network Switching, Routing, and Security Assessment:

Our in-depth review of all of your critical technology areas includes an evaluation against best practices and provides a road map to better leverage IT as a competitive advantage.

PC, Server, and User Device Inventory:

A complete cataloging of organizational hardware includes an assessment of condition, expandability, life expectancy, and replacement cost.
