

Think of a world where technology is perceived as a competitive advantage, not merely an expense.

We're Navigators.

- Helping to navigate change from one technology to the next
- Looking forward and charting the external and marketplace forces necessary to succeed

We're Entrepreneurs.

- Breaking down traditional organizational silos so that people embrace and drive change
- Forging partnerships and capitalizing on opportunities to monetize IT investment

We're Referees.

- Managing change so the game flows without interruption
- Doing our jobs effectively so that technology is an invisible element of a business solution

We're Champions.

- Identifying the best solutions and the change agents within every organization
- Championing IT as a competitive advantage

“VertitechIT helped us maximize the return on our investment.”

-CIO, Lancaster General Health

VertitechIT®

Think of a world where IT is an investment in essential change, not a place where capital budgets go to die.

Here at VertitechIT we've created a new path to IT transformation. Our job is not just to solve technical problems, but develop the strategic solutions that make your business, organization, or healthcare institution thrive. We are Advisors, Confidantes, Strategists, and Innovators for Hire.

We've built and run telecommunications companies, managed IT for businesses and hospitals, and architected change to internal and external audiences on behalf of some of the biggest organizations on the planet. We utilize that experience to provide transformational services to CIOs and senior leadership, serving as the strategic technology liaison between business and IT. Engage us for whatever you need from high level strategy to tactical execution. Engage us to formulate your next generation platform to support your new service offerings and then to build them. Engage us to design and implement a hyper-converged architecture, virtualize a network, or customize monitoring and management. We bring to you our entire organization to provide strategic and tactical advice on any topic during the life of the engagement. One monthly fee, no long-term contract, cancellable for any reason upon thirty days' notice.

“They always have cost, efficiency, and flexibility in mind.”

-CIO, Lancaster General Health

VertitechIT®